AEA joins Manila International Bookfair

The AEA, in cooperation with the different colleges, departments and offices, participated in the 28th Manila International Book Fair (MIBF) themed "Inspire, Aspire, Read" held at the World Trade Center, Roxas Blvd., Pasay City on August 29 to September 2.

Held annually, MIBF is considered the country's biggest and most prestigious book event. It brings together foreign and local players in book publishing and its allied industries and draws more than fifty thousand visitors. AEA Director Sonia Gementiza and administrators from various colleges and departments took this yearly opportunity to select and purchase books and others library materials at a discounted rate.

The administrators who joined the event are College of Law and Enforcement Administration and Public Safety Dean Alrien Dausan, College of Science (COS) and College of Liberal Arts (CLA) Associate Deans Mario Torres and Teresita Unabia, College of Education and CLA Graduate Studies Directors Felinore Angelica Valera and Merlyn Lee, Language Learning Center Director Paolo Niño Valdez, Kagawaran ng Filipino at Panitikan Chair Myrna Torreliza, Social Sciences Department Chair Mark Edwin Aspra, Biological Sciences Department Chair Marlon Pareja, Technology Department Chair Liberato Lontoc, Jr., and Physical Education Chair Necitas Sayoto.

In addition to book selection and acquisition, selected librarians attended seminar-workshops on various topics such as Webliography,

AEA starts Information Literacy Campaign

AEA, in cooperation with CE-Logic, started its Information Literacy Campaign through the Gale Infotrac orientation held on September 12 and 19 at the Electronic Resource Services room.

The first day had three sessions and was attended by library personnel and 35 faculty members from the colleges of Science, Engineering, Architecture and Technology, and Education. The second day was conducted specifically for the 36 faculty members of College of Business Administration led by Dean Willington Onuh.

The participants were taught how to access and use the Gale Infotrac, a customized online database which contains 500 titles of journals. The DLSU-D community may access Gale Infotrac through the AEA website starting this September 2007 to August 2008.

The campaign aimed to provide the DLSU-D community with basic knowledge on how to access Intellectual Property Rights, and Emerging Technologies for the Libraries.

Librarians Sharon Samaniego, Mae Lyn Baron and Joebert De Paz attended the Webliography: Online Access to Information Sources sponsored by the Association of Special Libraries of the Philippines. Marita Valerio from De La Salle University-Manila thoroughly discussed the topic and provided some practical advice on how to start a Webliography project in a library.

Ethel Mendoza, AEA Periodical librarian, attended the lecture of Atty. Elizabeth Pulumbarit on "Intellectual Property Rights: Issues and Concerns in Health Sciences." Atty. Pulumbarit underscored the important role played by the librarians in the implementation of the IPR in the Philippines.

Librarians Mary Ann Estudillo, Rhodora Espiritu and Arlene Manzo participated in the seminar conducted by Corazon Nera, chair of the Board for Librarians. Chair Nera shared her insights on the effect of modernization and emerging technologies in the Philippine libraries and how these can be used to empower them. According to the librarians, the seminars were very practical, interesting and relevant to the present time.

AEA would like to acknowledge CD Books International, C & E Publishing, Inc., Forefront Book Company, Inc., F & J de Jesus, Inc., Global Learning Media, Inc., and Megatexts Phils for providing food and transportation.

Aklatan's New Face

The Aklatang Emilio Aguinaldo sought the services of Lourdes Feliciano, a BS Commerce major in Banking and Finance from Imus Institute, batch 2003. She will serve as a reliever for Lenie Bullos who is currently on maternity leave. Lourdes is assigned as library assistant at the Filipiniana section. In 2004 and 2005, Lourdes was also hired by the AEA as a contractual employee and was assigned to the different units of the library such as Reserve, Science and Thesis sections.

and maximize the use of various online databases and services available at the Aklatan. This is AEA's humble contribution to the realization of one of the major thrusts of the University to develop a community of researchers.

Interested colleges, departments, or student organizations that want to learn about the different AEA online resources may send their requests to the AEA Director at smgementiza@mail.dasma.dlsu.edu.ph or contact local 3060.

TS personnel attends Unabia's lecture

The Technical Services personnel Arlene Manzo, Rhodora Espiritu, Bibian Alcantara, Jeenah Marie Galang, Enrico Montemayor and Antonia Derain had a glimpse of history last September 26 at the Luis Aguado viewing room. Guest speaker Prof. Teresita Unabia discussed the impressions of wealth and glimpses of society during the early centuries of Cavite/Manila-Acapulco trade. Professor Unabia is a history professor and associate dean of the DLSU-D College of Liberal Arts.

The project was organized by the University Faculty Research Office as part of the continuing Teodosia Sarao-Osteria Memorial Lecture Series.

AEA acquires new equipment

To meet the instructional needs of the academic community, the Aklatan, through the Educational Media Services (EMS), acquired five laptop computers and five multimedia projectors. To date, the library has a total of 12 units of laptop computers and 9 units of multimedia projectors. Faculty members may borrow these equipment for classroom use on a first-come, first-served basis.

NEWS BRIEFS

Faculty and staff in action

Eden Fabella and Dionisio Natanawan attended the training on proper handling of equipment at Severino De Las Alas Multipurpose Hall, September 17. The training was facilitated by the Product Manager of Pixelton Edwin Ceribo. It was organized by the Human Resources Management Office (HRMO), in cooperation with the Purchasing Office.

To inform the DLSU-D personnel on the different services provided by the Health Maintenance, Inc (HMI), the official healthcare provider of the University, the HRMO organized a re-orientation program last September 19 at the Severino De Las Alas Hall Auditorium. All library support staff attended the said activity.

AEA institutional secretary Felicitas Poblete listened to the lecture of Business Management Department Chair Karl Rebosura on telephone etiquette last September 20 at GSB 106. Moreover, Poblete also attended a seminar on campus security and bomb detection for DLSU-D staff. Facilitated by National Bureau of Investigation Senior Chemist and CLE faculty Edwin Purificando, the seminar was comprised of various topics on bombs and booby traps and how to recognize them.

On September 4, all library personnel joined other support staff in meeting Br. President Gus Boquer FSC at the University Chapel. The meeting served as an open forum between Br. Gus and the staff. During the meeting Br. Gus mentioned that his door is open for everyone who may want to talk to him.

Technical Services Head Arlene Manzo took the Lasallian Module 14 titled "Heart Burning with Compassion" at the Francisco Barzaga Hall POLCA, September 27. Lasallian Family Seminar helps the DLSU community imbibe the ways and wisdom of St. John Baptist de La Salle.

Library support staff Antonia Derain, Eden Fabella, Leslieann Piores, and Felix Sarreal, Jr. served as usher and usherettes to the PAASCU accreditors during the accreditation of the Graduate School programs of the colleges of Science, Liberal Arts and Education, September 28-29.

LIBRARY EXHIBITS

The basic photography class under the tutelage of Tita Lim held a photo exhibit entitled "Selective Focus: Learning About Photography and the Things That It Can Do" at the 2nd floor of the AEA Annex from September 18-30. The exhibit showcased collection of photographs taken by COM 3-1 and 3-2 students.

In line with the National Tourism Week, Turismo Lasalleño Society held a tourism exhibit at the AEA Gallery on September 20-22. The exhibit aimed to promote awareness and appreciation of Asian art and culture. It featured profile, foods, costume, modes of transportation, major sites and tourism destinations in selected Asian countries.

SECTION UPDATES

The Periodical Section highly recommends the following titles for the month of September:

Architectural Records. New York: McGraw-hill Construction, September 2007.

Architectural Record is an American monthly magazine dedicated to architecture and interior design, published by McGraw-Hill Construction in New York City. It is over 110 years old. While the magazine is aimed at professional architects and engineers with news, commentary, criticism and continuing education sections, it also features numerous articles exploring cutting edge designs by leading architects with glossy photos and articles that are accessible to non-experts. The magazine holds a close relationship with the American Institute of Architects (AIA), notably through AIA Continuing Education sections offered in the magazine and on its website.

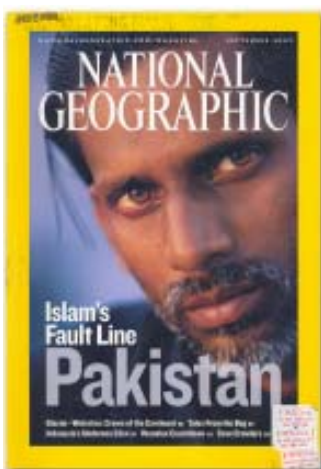

Scientific American. New York: Scientific American, Inc., September 2007.

Scientific American or "SciAm" is a popular-science magazine, published monthly by the Scientific American, Inc. It is a magazine where scientific theories and discoveries are explained to a wider audience. This publication also aims to educate general readers who are interested in scientific issues.

Harvard Business Review. Harvard Business School Publishing Corp.: Boston MA., September 2007

Harvard Business Review is a general management magazine published since 1922 by Harvard Business School Publishing, which is owned by the Harvard Business School. A monthly research-based magazine written for business practitioners, it claims a high ranking business readership and enjoys the reverence of academics, executives, and management consultants.

National Geographic. Washington DC: National Geographic Society, September 2007.

The National Geographic Magazine, later shortened to National Geographic, is the official journal of the National Geographic Society. It contains articles about geography, popular science, history, culture, current events, and photography. Supplementing the articles, the magazine sometimes provides maps of the regions they visited. In addition to that, as being well-known for articles about scenery, history, and the most distant corners of the world, the magazine has also long been recognized for its book-like quality and its standard of photography. This standard makes it the home to some of the highest-quality photojournalism in the world.
